These are all of the 200 original pages (and three years of my life) drawn for Americus.

You'll notice that some of the pages seem to have missing panels or blank areas, drawings seem to be pasted to the pages, etc. As much as I try to be a 'cartoonist's cartoonist' when drawing pages, there are times where it is more time-efficient for me to rework something in the computer than to spend the hour or two it would take to redraw it.

Some of the content of the pages on display differ from what is in the printed book. This was a result of the many stages of the editing process.
